

EasyRide Frequently Asked Questions

Q. What is EasyRide?

A. EasyRide is an employer sponsored program that offers employees an alternative to driving to work alone. Offering employees EasyRide benefits allows them to commute at a reduced fare using public transit throughout the region. And, employers get fee-free way for employers to save thousands in payroll taxes while allowing employees to commute tax free.

Q. How do I get started?

A. It's pretty simple. Start by looking at the guide that most applies to you. Then reach out to WeGo and a representative will be in touch to ask a few questions and see what works best for you based on your needs and budget. If you want to get started today, email Rick Rodriguez at rick.rodriquez@nashville.gov and he will be in touch.

Q. What do employees get out of EasyRide?

A. A more responsible way to commute. Employees can also cut their taxable income a month by up to $255; reducing their monthly vehicle expenses; eliminate the need to find parking or even paying for parking; avoid traffic jams and other people's bad behavior; and arrive at work more relaxed and better balanced.

Q. What do employers get out of EasyRide?

A. Employers get a workforce better prepared to start the day. Employers can also pay up to $255 employee commuter costs and get a tax deduction for the expense; reduce the sunk cost of providing free employee parking; increase employee peace of mind; and put a little more money in the pocket of their employees. No matter how you offer it, EasyRide is a powerful tool for helping you recruit, retain, and motivate employees.

Q. How does EasyRide work?

A. It's pretty simple. Once you establish your commitment to your employees, you can integrate with your current employee id, purchase monthly passes and distribute, establish cost sharing with your employees. There are lots of ways we can bring EasyRide to your employees. It starts with a conversation with us.
